MINES AND MINING OUTPUTS

The Production of Zinc and Lead Ores for the Year 1912 — The Tabb Mine.

The United States Geological Survey reports as follows:

Lead and zinc deposits are found in both central and western Kentucky. None of the mines in the central districts reported any lead and zinc concentrates in 1912.

In the western Kentucky district considerable quantities of galena concentrates are obtained solely as a by product in the recovery and concentration of fluorspar. The galena recovered is argentiferous the silver content varying from a very small quantity to over three ounces per ton, but no recovery of this silver content has been reported by the smelters for the last two years.

151 tons of galena concentrates were shipped from Marion in 1912 having a value of $6,827.00 and carrying an average lead content of 70.2 per cent. The metallic content of the concentrates was valued at $9,540.00. The quantity of zinc concentrates shipped increased from 467 short tons in 1911 to 1243 short tons in 1912, the total value increasing from $10,604.00 to $41,391.00. The zinc concentrates sold comprised 493 tons of sphalerite of good grade and 750 tons of zinc carbonate averaging 35.6 per cent metal content. The estimated recoverable spelter content was 491 tons valued at $67,758.00, a large increase over the 1911 output which was 158 tons valued at $9,540.00.

The largest producers of galena concentrates were the Kentucky Fluorspar Co.; The Roberts Fluorspar & Lead Co.; the Eagle Fluorspar Co., and the LaRue Co. The Eclipse Mining Co., of Marion, shipped all of the sphalerite concentrates which were derived from the Commodore mine. The largest shippers of zinc carbonates was the Langenbach Mining Co., operating the Mann mine near Lola. Two shafts about 128 feet deep were utilized to obtain the ore.

The Sanders Ore Separating Co., worked the land of the Marion Mineral Co., and shipped a good output of zinc carbonate of high grade.

The unwatering of the Tabb mine at Mexico, Ky., brings to light a number 7 Cameron pump that has remained in the bottom of that shaft for twenty-seven years. Brown and Ward were prospecting for zinc ore at this shaft in 1886 but the water was so strong that the work was abandoned leaving this big pump at the bottom of the shaft. It was a very great satisfaction to Mr. Frazer who has charge of this work to find at the 180 foot level a very high grade body of fluorspar fully six feet in thickness and showing the same on both sides of the shaft. This adds another good producer to the district and assures full average output for the future. The Hoosier Mining Co., are to be congratulated.

It is reported that the company prospecting the Memphis property will arrange to take up other mining propositions and allow the Memphis mines time in which to refill its many veins with fluorspar.

The Keystone output is becoming a good deal of a factor

HENRY & HENRY MONUMENT WORKS

Business Good and Work Progressing.—Four Horse Load Sent to Union Last Week.

Henry & Henry have purchased the concrete building and have had a new roof put on it and considerable repairing done to it. They have put up their sign like they had located for life. Business in this line always keeps up. People die in dull times as well as any other time and fine monuments are called for almost every day in the year, at this well known Monument & Tombstone factory.

Last week three large jobs were sent out. One to Union Cemetery for the wife of David Wainford was a substantial granite 'handsomely carved'. Another to the same place was for the late Spilman Wainford and wife, was of Bowling Green stone. Another was for Ray Hughes and was of granite and was a handsome one. It required a big strong four horse team to deliver this firms contract to one cemetery last week. They have dozens of unfinished orders on hand and are at work all the time. Carl Moreland and Howard Henry execute the work when Ab gets the orders and he usually lands them.

Hundred-Barrel Well Struck Near Hartford.

Hartford, Ky., Sept. 23.—An oil well was brought in last night on the George Sullenger farm, five miles northeast of Hartford, at a depth of 1,260 feet, showing an initial capacity of more than 100 barrels a day. This well is one mile west of the proved field, and much interest is manifested as a result of the strike.

Seven additional wells are now going down in this vicinity. The county now has a large production.

in the aggregate tonnage of the district, the quality being of exceptionally high grade.

Several of the drill hole cores on the Miller carbonate property show very encouraging results in carbonate of zinc.

The Pigmy mine has a considerable body of spotted ore exposed, that is fluorspar spotted with calc spar.

The drifts on the Franklin mine are being lengthened but do not vary much from the former reports.

The Commodore mine has some 6000 to 8000 tons of crude zinc ore already broken and ready to hoist and mill.

The LaRue Mining Company's output of fluorspar has decreased in tonnage very materially during the last month or two.

The Yandell mine of the Kentucky Fluorspar Co., is furnishing a good grade of product with a fair tonnage.

A reorganization of the Reed Mining Co., is in progress under the direction of Blue & Nunn, Attorneys.

Nothing new is reported from Prof. Wright's property at Levias and the same can be said regarding the Crittenden Springs property.

That fluorspar mining is a good investment is evidence by the number of mining men from this section who attended the State Fair at Louisville last week, they have all returned looking sleepy but happy.

FROST APPEARED MONDAY MORNING

First of the Season is Right Here, But Killing Frost Falls in Surrounding Counties.

Early risers Monday morning and the editor was one of them, witnessed the first frost of the fall. The frost was very light and did not injure vegetation in this section. All sections of the county report light frost.

Elkton, Ky., Sept. 22.—Todd county was visited last night by the first frost of the season. About three-fourths of the tobacco crop is in the barns. It is believed that still standing in the field is considerably damaged.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 22.—There was a frost in this region early this morning and it is feared that considerable damage was done to tobacco in the lowlands. Elsewhere the heavy dew prevented extensive injury. The minimum temperature was 34 degrees last night.

MRS. EARNEST BUTLER BADLY BURNED

While Pluckily Fighting Fire—Painfully But Not Seriously Injured.

Wednesday morning soon after breakfast was over Mrs. Ernest Butler discovered that the flue in the kitchen was on fire and while she promptly gave the alarm, she did not wait for volunteers or any one else but went to work to put the fire out. In order to reach it she put a box on the stove and climbed on it and jerked the collar and tumbled down. When she did this the hot coals fell on her face and breast. Before she could get rid of them she was badly burned. In getting down hurriedly off the box she had put up on top of the cooking stove which was still hot she sprained her ankle quite seriously and as a result is confined to her bed and is unable to walk. Her hurts are painful but not serious. Her many friends hope she will be out soon. Mr. Butler who is one of Yandell and Gugenheim's trusty employers recently moved with his family to Mrs. Susan Glenn's house and it was there the fire occurred. It was soon put out with only slight damage to the house but had it not been for the quick thought and quick work of Mrs. Butler it might have gotten beyond control. Hurrah for Mrs. Butler we need more like her.

The New Mill

The erection of a very substantial large tonnage mill for cleaning and grinding fluorspar is to be a fact in the very near future.

Mr. Avery H. Reed the mining engineer who made it possible for the Roseclaire mine to output its present large tonnage has this mill in charge and he is now deciding on its location.

It goes without saying that when the wheels do "commence to go around" they will keep at it and the fluorspar and zinc and lead ores will enter the "cars" for shipment in the very best possible shape for the consumers, and the cars will keep moving too.

MINISTER SAID TO HAVE FOUR WIVES

Rev. Jess Beesley, 56, Arrested in St. Louis Saturday on the Charge of Bigamy.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 23.—The Rev. Jess Beesley, 56 years old, a Baptist preacher, who formerly had charges in Carlisle, Ballard and Muhlenberg counties, in Kentucky, was arrested this afternoon in a rooming house of the underworld, on a charge of bigamy preferred by his second wife.

To the police, the hoary bearded evangelist told of his chronological marital record as follows:

No. 1, Miss Minnie Newman, he married at Richland, Tenn., in 1870, and deserted her immediately; it was a military affair.

No. 2, was Miss Sarah J. Stubble, whom he married in 1881, at Dakedon, Tenn. She lasted a quarter of a century, and had three children. Beesley left her in 1912 to wed.

No. 3, Miss Kate Fight, of Jonesboro, Ill., who died on the same day her baby expired in another hospital, fifteen miles away.

No. 4, Miss Margaret Smith, of Harrison, Tenn., whom he married April 19, 1913. He was living with her when arrested today.

The home of wife No. 2 is Greenville, Ky., and their elopement to a little Tennessee town followed a church service on Sunday night. He got the license in Fulton, Ky.

Wife No. 2 now lives in Belleville, Ill., and had been chasing Beesley for several years. She never knew about wife No. 3, who died during a period in which her husband dropped from sight.

Beesley said he had been too busy saving souls to worry about divorcees.

G. D. SUMMERVILLE HURT

Automobile Runs Into Buggy in Which He is Sitting.

Tuesday while G. D. Summerville the well known farmer of Mattoon was sitting in his buggy near the edge of the side walk in front of Cochran & Co's hardware store the automobile of B. L. Sulinger of Lola ran in to the buggy in the rear heading it up and throwing Mr. Summerville who the only occupant out and giving him a considerable shaking up and bruising. No bones were broken, but he, being an unusually large man touching the beam at 245 pounds was given a terrible wrench in his back and was otherwise injured. He was taken to the home of Dr. R. L. Moore and examined and Dr. A. J. Driskill was called and pronounced his injuries serious but not dangerous. He is confined to his bed and will be for several days or weeks from the effects of the soreness if nothing else develops.

Sun Bros.' Circus Here Tuesday.

The Sun Bros. circus visited Marion again Tuesday and was given a warm welcome. Large crowds were in the city early at the station and the show ground. The show while not as large as on their previous visits there was many new and good features. The Sun Bros. run it on a high moral plane and no trouble was occasioned here by its visit.

KISSED AND MADE UP DIFFERENCES

But the County Couple Kept the Community Well Stirred Up While the Trouble Lasted.

A most exciting series of events springing from domestic troubles of Tom Myers and wife, of this county, was brought to a close here when Myres was fined $30 in the County Court for wife beating.

On last Tuesday Myers and his wife had some difficulty during the progress of which he bestowed sundry blows, slaps and bruises upon her and so terrified her that she fled their home and sought refuge in Fredonia, which is near their home.

Noticing her absence for the next several days the relations concluded that the woman had been killed, and dragged creeks, ponds and estuaries near Myers premises in an endeavor to locate her body.

Naturally they failed to find her and when they next heard from her she was in Marion on Saturday, where she swore out a warrant, charging her husband with wife beating, and in addition asked that he be put under a bond to keep the peace.

Saturday night the sheriff started out to find Myers and arrest him that he might be placed on trial here. He failed in his search and later developments show that while he was making his midnight ride to protect the women, who was apparently in terror of her husband, she and her erring spouse resided peacefully in Fredonia, Missouri, appearing, and at her request he was allowed to plead guilty to accept a fine of thirty dollars whereupon they departed in apparant peace and harmony with every assurance that they would "live happily ever after."

Lee Cook Dead

Lee Cook, an aged citizen of the northern section of the county died at the residence of his son, Ed Cook, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, of pneumonia and other diseases incident to old age. He had been afflicted with nervous troubles for several years and had been confined to the house for some time. Mr. Cook was born near Jamestown, Russell Co., Kentucky Aug. 8th 1835, and was therefore in his 79 year. He came to this country with his parents in early life and has resided near where he died for over 50 years.

He is survived by one brother H. M. Cook, and one sister Mrs. Richard Wilborn, both of this city, one son Edward Cook of Fords Ferry and two daughters, Mrs. James Goodwin, of Evansville, and Mrs. Charles English, of Boston, Mass. His wife who was Miss Ann Walker a sister of the late R. N. Walker, of this city has been dead many years. The funeral was preached by Rev. G. Y. Wilson of the Tolu who is pastor at Hebron, Sunday at noon and the interment took place at the family cemetery overlooking the Ohio river, on the old homestead in the presence of one of the largest assemblages ever seen in this county, comprising several hundred people.

Mr. Cook was a universalist in faith, but was not a member of any church, as there is no organized body of that faith in this section.

BOOTLEGGER ARRESTED AND FINED

Also 133 Pints of Old Hoosier.—Fine and Costs in One Case Alone is $86.00

Last week Sheriff Joel A. Pickens received word that a shanty boat was anchored on the northern borders of the county and that the proprietor thereof was disposing red liquor in violation of local option or county unit laws of this county. The matter was reported to the county attorney and a warrant secured for the arrest of one Julius Cummings. Saturday afternoon the sheriff and deputy D. Gilliland, city marshal A. S. Cannon and county attorney Moore left the city in Kemps automobile for Fords Ferry where a gasoline launch was secured with which they searched the banks and crooks of the river on both sides until they reached Rosiclare. There they learned that the boat was anchored near the spring just below the town landing. It was not long until they landed their man who they found alone on the boat. They also captured 133 pints of "Old Hoosier" and turned it over to the officials of Rosiclare to be destroyed and brought their man here and lodged him here in jail. The party reached here early Sunday morning after an all night trip. Cummings was fined $60 and cost amounting to about $86. Monday in the county court and was told to go and sin no more. It is very probable he will at least seek other field and will not attempt any more blind tiger operations in the confines of Crittenden County.

Teachers' Association

At Forest Grove.

The Teachers' Association Div. 2, met at Forest Grove, Friday, Sept. 19th, and was cordially received and delightfully entertained by Mr. Dennis Clark, and his enthusiastic and his appreciative patrons. The school building at Forest Grove is perhaps the most beautifully situated school in the county. The white well-kept building nestled among the green maples on the spacious lawn, afforded an excellent place for such a meeting.

The welcome address was delivered by Rev. Rufus Robinson, a Forest Grove patron, in a very unique but pleasing way.

The program was given as arranged. There were seventeen Div. 2 teachers present besides the Co. Supt. We were glad too, to have with us Prof. Christian, Supt., Marion City Schools, who delivered an excellent address on "The Rural School of the Future a Practical Institution," and Fred H. Hillyard, of Div. 3, who taught in Div. 2, last year, and always has with him the progressive spirit of Div. 2.

Every teacher seemed filled with renewed energy and enthusiasm for better schools.

The dinner was the best, and in Bro. Robinson's words they fed us "of the grains of the field, the fruits of the vine and the firstlings of the flock."

The patrons extended a hearty invitation to the Association to meet with them next year and every teacher responded from the depths of their hearts, ave, ave.

MESSIAH'S KINGDOM.

The Glorious Day of Divine Favor is Nearing.

The period in which sin is permitted has been a dark night to humanity, never to be forgotten; but the glorious day of righteousness and divine favor is soon to be ushered in by Messiah. He, as the SUN OF RIGHTEOUSNESS, shall arise and shine fully and clearly into and upon all, bringing healing and blessing, which will more than counterbalance the dreadful night of weeping, sighing, pain, sickness and death, in which the groaning creation has been so long. "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the MORNING."

The Kind of Man The World Is Looking For.

In the October American Magazine Ray Stannard Baker, writing about Colonel Goethals, the builder of the Panama Canal reports Colonel Goethals as saying:

"The world today is above all else a practical world and it demands results. What it is looking for is men who can and will do things. It is reported of Lord Kitchener that, when during the South African Campaign a subordinate officer reported to him a failure to obey orders and gave reasons therefore, he said to him: 'Your reasons for not doing it are the best I ever heard. Now go on and do it! That is what the world demands today?'"

September Days In Dixie

September days in Dixie,
Oh, then Miss Dixie's dress
Like every southern beauty
In her loveliest and best;
In scarlet and in crimson,
In russet and in brown,
With a purple robe of splendor
And a lovely golden crown.

September days in Dixie,
Oh, then Miss Dixie's sweet,
With the lost bloom of the roses
In ashes at her feet,
But her dear heart every beating
To the old tune of her soul
In the dear land of old Dixie
Where the Dixie waters roll.

September days in Dixie,
Oh, have you ever seen
Such worlds of rosy color,
Such walls of living green!

For deathly smile is Dixie's,
And whether rain or snows,
The smiling lips of Dixie
Are the warm lips of the rose.

September days in Dixie,
And, oh, what charm to swing
The grapevines of the morning
With her warm heart sweet as spring!

Her white teeth through red coral
To make a smile seem born
Of the golden moonlight melted
And the silver mist of morn.

September days in Dixie,
And that's Miss Dixie's time
To hear the fiddles echo
To a dance-tune's pattering rhyme!

Away, away in Dixie,
When the frost is on the hills,
And she sits there sipping cider
By the old-time cider mill!

Genius Of Napoleon.

Napoleon wrote with an authority which no man since his time has exercised. He spoke to a paper as one who was used to wield a sword. The voice of command is heard in his lightest word. He insisted not merely that his orders should be obeyed, but that his opinions should be accepted without a hint of hesitation. And thus it is that he is his own best historian.

The faculty of appreciating the many sides of his character has not yet been given to any one of his biographers. It would be almost impossible, save for a parliament of learned men, to make an adequate presentation of the great emperor. And then the portrait would be blurred by conflicting pedantries. Yet, though the difficulty of the task increases day by day, with the increasing material, the courage of biographers does not diminish. The one concession they make to the circumstances may be perceived by a willingness to divide their labor. Of late years the gossips have vied with the historians in producing a vast and irrelevant literature dedicated to the genius of Napoleon. He has been applauded and condemned as statesman, soldier, father, brother, patriot, law-giver and lover. The said inevitable episode of St. Helena has already provoked a library of conflicting opinions. And the more books published in his honor, the further we are carried away from a sympathetic knowledge of the truth.

Too many facts are already at our hand for a wise judgment. If ever we are to understand Napoleon, the interpreter must be not science, but imagination. As Meternich said with perfect truth, Napoleon was a man of romance, and it is not by turning over the dry bones of history that you understand the heart of romance.—Backwood's Magazine.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one druggist who has been able to cure in all his stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Drouth Routs Circus.

Glasgow, Ky., Sept. 18.—The Sun Brothers' circus which exhibited here today had quite an experience in trying to find water for their animals. The Glasgow watercompany is unable to supply the town with sufficient water and informed the show people they could have no water. They went to work trying to find water from private wells, and it was discovered that a great many of the wells, which had never been known to be dry were very low, and would probably go dry. They finally succeeded in finding water to make out with, but began to preparing to leave at the earliest possible moment in order to find a more convenient place.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. It also cured others that I gave it to," writes M. E. Gebhart, Oriole, Pa. That is not at all unusual. An ordinary attack of diarrhoea can almost invariably be cured by one or two doses of this remedy. For sale by all dealers.

Believed Explorers

Killed By Eskimos.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 23.—The disappearance of George Street, of Ottawa, and H. V. Radford, an American, Northern explorers may be explained by a story which reached here today from Chesterfield Inlet on Hudson Bay. This report, brought by mail steamer and the Hudson Bay route and two months on the way tell of the murder of Street and Radford by Eskimos two years ago.

The two men left Chesterfield Inlet with a party of Eskimos and joined another party of inland Eskimos at Schultz Lake, intending to proceed to Bathurst Inlet on the Arctic Ocean. Shortly afterwards an altercation occurred between Radford and one of the tribe and the Eskimo drove his spear thru the white man. Street attempted to go to his companion's aid and was killed in the same manner.

The story was kept secret by the Eskimos for several months but finally reached the ears of the mounted police at Chesterfield two months ago and a small detail has been sent out to investigate.

Convict Slides To Freedom

Fort Madison, Ia., Sept. 23.—Obtaining permission from a barber house guard to get a drink of water, Carl McCloud, a convict of Mystic, Saturday night climbed the center pole of a derrick in the new cell house at the state prison and slid 100 feet down a guy wire to the wall of the prison. From there he dropped to the ground.

CATARRH SUFFERERS

Get Immediate And Effective Relief By Using Hyomei.

Hyomei is nature's true remedy for catarrh. There is no stomach dosing—you breathe it.

When using this treatment, you breathe healing balsams and effectively reach the most remote air cells of the throat, nose and lungs, the catarrhal germs are destroyed—quick and sure relief results.

Hyomei often restores health to chronic cases that had given up all hope of recovery. Its best action is at the start of the disease when the breath is becoming offensive, and constant sniffing, discharges from the nose, droppings in the throat, or that choked up feeling begin to make life a burden. At the first symptom of catarrhal trouble, surely use Hyomei. Ask Haynes & Taylor for the complete outfit, $1.00. They will refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

The Panama Canal.

In the September American Magazine Ray Stannard Baker gives a wonderful account of Colonel Goethals and the Panama Canal. One of the points made, is that Goethals believes in the value of enthusiasm and knows how to cultivate it among his men. The following extract from Mr. Baker's article is interesting in this connection:

"Everything must be done to build up a spirit of common enthusiasm. Many men, for example, who came to see Goethals, especially the more ignorant workmen, complained of abusive language on the part of foreman brought up in the old school of private enterprise. One day Goethals issued this order:

PROFANE LANGUAGE

Culebra, C. Z., Aug. 4.—Circular No. 400:

The use of profane or abusive language by foreman or others in authority, when addressing subordinates, will not be tolerated.

George W. Goethals, Chairman and Chief Engineer."

Farmer's Wife Prisoner In Cellar for half an Hour.

St. Johns, Mich., Sept. 23.—A large rattle snake kept Mrs. William Beebe, a wife of a farmer, living six miles north of here, a prisoner in the cellar of her home for nearly a half hour yesterday afternoon.

While churning Mrs. Beebe saw the rattlesnake crawl from behind a barrel and slowly coil prevent the impact. The whale itself on the floor between her and the door. After calling out several times she finally succeeded in attracting the attention of her daughter, who was on the floor above. The girl ran out into the field and summoned her father, who killed the snake. It had fourteen rattles.

Boy Dashed To Death In Fall.

Woodstock, Conn., Sept. 23.—Thirteen year old George Bernier, who was holding a guy rope to a balloon while it was being preparatory to an ascension at a local fair this afternoon was suddenly carried 500 feet in the air and then dropped to instant death in front of the grandstand, where 5,000 were assembled.

In order to secure a better hold on the guy rope during the inflation of the balloon the boy wound the rope around his wrist several times. When the balloonist, Harold Gates, of Newburyport, Mass., started his ascension the boy did not have time to unwind the rope, and was carried swiftly upward, dangling by one hand.

Gates was not aware of the boy's predicament, until the rope had unwound itself and the boy was dashed to death.

Who Am I?

Last year I did not want to embarrass my best girl to make her propose to me, so I asked her to be my wife, she said, "I would rather be excused" and I, like an idiot, excused her. But I got even with the girl. I married her mother. Then my father married the girl. Now I don't know who I am.

When I married the girl's mother, the girl became my daughter, and when my father my daughter he is my son. When my father married my daughter she was my mother. If my father is my son, and my daughter is my mother, who in the thunder am I? My mother's mother (which is my wife), must be my grandmother, and I being my grandmother's husband, am my own grandfather.—National Monthly

PRETTY GIRL BOXES BOLD MASHER'S EARS

Fiction Warning Given by Young Lady Employee of Theatre.

Marion, Ky., Sept. 22.—A young girl, well-headed man and two women on either side, Friday evening, delivered by a young miss with whom he had to fight.

The "troucing" occurred at seven and a half o'clock. The young lady, who works in a Main street theatre, was returning home from work when the admiring Lothario stepped up and doffing his hat, inquired if he could see her home.

The young woman did not deign to reply and he followed her.

When the young lady discovered she was being followed, she turned around and slapped him twice. His hat falling off disclosed a perfectly bald pate and when the object of his attentions saw this she gave him a lecture on staying at home and looking after his grandchildren.

THE GOLDEN CALF.
Exodus 32:1-20, 30-35—Sept. 21.
"Love children, keep yourselves from idols."—1 John 5:21.

All Israelites experienced a severe trial of faith and obedience soon after entering into covenant relationship with God. In this trial they failed utterly. The Covenant was broken. However, after punishing them, God graciously renewed the Covenant.

The circumstances of this testing are part of this lesson. After making the Covenant, Moses, by Divine direction, went up into Mt. Sinai, taking Joshua with him. He was gone forty days. His prolonged absence gave room for the cultivation of faith, patience, trust.

The Israelites remembered the trying experiences through which they had passed. The Egyptians were behind them; the Amalekites might renew their attack. What would they do without Moses, whose upheld hands brought them God's favor and victory?

Here worldly wisdom came in. Aaron was perplexed as to how Some Christians use the cross to keep the people from utter discouragement. Apparently they were unable to trust the God whom they could not see. The leaders took counsel together and determined to make a representative of Jehovah—an image which the people could use as an instrument of worship.

We are not to suppose that the Israelites recognized the golden calf as their God Jehovah, but used it merely as a symbol, just as the heathen use their idols as representations of their gods, and as some Christians use the crucifix—not to worship, but to assist faith and hold attention.

Today's lesson seems clearly to indicate that God was greatly displeased with their symbolic representation of Himself. One of His commands had been, "Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image," to bow down before it and worship it as a symbol.

Making the Golden Calf.
We are not to suppose that the calf was made of solid metal. Probably it was made of either clay or wood, and then covered with molten gold, which in turn was graven or tooled. Having made the idol, the people rejoiced in it as an evidence of God in their midst, and gave themselves up to a season of feasting and dancing.

After forty days, Moses came down from the mount with the tables of the Law. He heard the people shouting, and then beheld them worshipping the golden calf. Moses was justly angry; for he was the mediator between God and Israel—the representative of both, charged by God with the responsibility of that nation, and he realized that a serious crime against the Covenant had been committed.

Moses dashed the tables of the Law into fragments, indicating that the Covenant had been broken. Armed with Divine authority, he let fall upon the people a just penalty for their rapid retrogression into sin. Then he went to God in prayer, and besought that, if the penalty of this sin was the casting off of Israel, he might himself be blotted out instead.

Such patriots as Moses here evinced has surely not often been equalled—loyalty both to Israel, as representative and mediator, and also to God.

"Keep Yourselves From Idols."
Let us apply the lesson to Spiritual Israel. After the Christian has left the world, passed the bitter experiences of Marah, had manifestations of God's favor, partaken of the Bread from Heaven, and entered into full covenant relationship with God—there comes a time when he must walk by faith, not by sight. If he fails to learn this lesson, as did the typical Israelites, it will be a serious matter.

This making of images which divert and absorb our worship of God is one of Spiritual Israel's greatest tests. The golden calf which some set up is business, to which they sacrifice both time and energy. The love of money and of things which money can procure leads into idolatry, and thereby breaks our covenant.

Others idolize the opposite sex, giving all they possess for its favor and fellowship. They make the great mistake of worshipping the creature more than the Creator, as the Apostle explains in the book of Romans.

Still another idol is sectarianism against which St. Paul warned the Church. (1 Corinthians 3:3-5.) The same principle we may apply today. If one says, I am of Calvin, Luther, Wesley, are these not evidences of carnality? Is there not serious danger of worshipping the human institutions bearing these names, and thus of having something come between the Christian and his God?

Christendom's creeds are Christian traditions respecting the Truth. God's purpose evidently was that His people should have no creed but the Bible as a whole. They were to search the Scriptures daily, to ascertain God's teachings, and thus to grow in grace and knowledge. Christians should destroy their creeds, which misrepresent God's Character and Plan.

O the rain, we hear it falling;
Soon the birds will be a calling
To their mates, so happy and glad;
All rejoice, and none are sad.

It cleans the buds, brightens the leaves;
The water trickles from the eaves;
It makes the grass look fresh and bright.

So fast it grows during the night.
All nature gives it welcome warm—
It's good for all that's on the farm;
It's good for everything that grows;
It's good for him who reaps and sows.

After the rain, we see the bow
In the cloud, placed there to show
God's vow to the children of men
That a flood shall not come again.

In the meadow, smooth and level,
See the horses, how they revel!
In the grass so sweet and tender,
As they munch, with none to hinder.

O could our lives be like the rain!
And thus we could all through remain,
No one could ever dare to tell
How many souls we'd make farewell.

A sore throat can be treated best from the outside. The throat should be rubbed gently with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT. Apply at night and cover with a cotton cloth bandage; by morning the soreness will disappear. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Haynes & Taylor and James H. Orme.

HALF BURIED IN MASS OF PITCH

Little Hopkinsville Girl Has Trying Experience.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 22.—While running across the top of some barrels of pitch this afternoon, Inez Moore, 12, stepped into one of the barrels from which the heading was gone and immediately sank almost to her knees, the hot sun having heated ed the pitch to a depth of several inches. In answer to her cries a crowd soon gathered and all sorts of methods were tried to extricate her, but for over an hour all failed. She was pulled until it was feared her legs would be broken, an ax and a garden fork were requisitioned in an attempt to chop her out, but not only did this fail but both implements were caught in the pitch and could not be gotten out.

After a long time the child's legs were slowly worked upward until her shoes cut and she could withdraw her feet. The shoes were left in the pitch. The girl is not seriously injured.

Mother of Eighteen Children.

"I am the mother of eighteen children and have the pride of doing more work than any young woman in my town," writes Mrs. C. J. Martin, Boone Mill, Va. "I suffered for five years with stomach trouble and could not eat as much as a biscuit without suffering. I have taken three bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and am now a well woman and weigh 168 pounds. I can eat anything I want to, and as much as I want and feel better than I have at any time in ten years. I refer to any one in Boone Mill or vicinity and they will vouch for what I say." Chamberlain's Tablets are for sale by all dealers.

TRIBUTE PAID TO PERRY'S MEMORY

Great Naval Battle Fought One Hundred Years Ago.

West Point, O., Sept. 22.—A towering shaft of white marble, erected in commemoration of Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry's victory in the battle of Lake Erie and the one hundred years of peace between the United States and Great Britain, was formally dedicated today by former President William Howard Taft. Inaugurating the dedication ceremonies, cannon boomed at the hour of the firing of the opening gun of the famous battle fought 100 years ago today, within view of the put-in-Bay shores.

VALUABLE ADVICE

Marion Citizens Should Profit By The Following Statement.

Doan's Kidney Pills were used by this Marion resident.

Their merit was shown—the story told.

Now comes further evidence. The testimony is confirmed. The remedy was tested—the results lasted.

Could Marion residents demand stronger proof?

It's Marion testimony. It can be investigated. J. E. Glass, farmer, Marion, Ky., says: "The statement I made some years ago, regarding an attack of kidney trouble that I had at that time and that was permanently cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, still holds good. I recommend this remedy to all sufferers from kidney trouble. They surely do all that is claimed for them. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to many people and they have also been cured of severe cases of kidney and bladder trouble."

Where it Happened.

During a dinner party a young Frenchman was seated next to a fine looking young woman who was wearing a gown which displayed her beautiful arms.

"I came near not being here to-night," said she. "I was vaccinated a few days ago, and it gave me considerable annoyance."

The young foreigner gazed at the white arms of the speaker. "Is that so?" he replied. "Where were you vaccinated?" The girl smiled demurely and said: "In Boston."—National Monthly.

MAKING the ZONE HEALTHFUL

E.W. PICKARD

Ancon, C. Z.—All the world gives to

Col. W. C. Gorgas, chief sanitary officer, and his assistants full credit for the wonderful work they have accomplished in making the Panama canal zone healthful and keeping it so. All the world that knows gives equal credit to those American, Italian and English doctors and soldiers who sacrificed their health and in some cases their lives to prove that yellow fever and malaria, the two terrors of tropic America, are transmitted by the bite of mosquitoes. It is not my intention to tell over again the latter story. The devotion of those brave men actually made possible the building of the Panama canal, for their work has been taken full advantage of by Colonel Gorgas and his forces, and the zone is now one of the most healthful places in the world.

Before the coming of the Americans the isthmus was a veritable pest hole. The French canal builders and their workmen and the laborers on the Panama railway died like flies, usually of malaria or yellow fever. Today a fatal case of malaria is a rarity, the more malignant form being almost unknown, and not a single case of yellow fever has originated in the zone in several years.

The Stegomyia mosquito, the yellow fever bearer, has not been exceedingly hard to exterminate because it breeds and lives only near human habitations. When the Americans had substituted a regular water system and underground sewers for the rain water barrels and the open ditches in Colon, Panama and the other towns, and had fumigated all the dwellings, Stegomyia was practically extinct. That job of fumigating, by the way, raised a great row among the ignorant inhabitants of Panama. They could not understand why they should be all moved out into the street and their houses filled with evil-smelling fumes, and they were inclined to offer forcible resistance until the zone police took the matter in hand.

Much more difficult has been the task of eradicating malaria, for the Anopheles mosquito, which makes a specialty of carrying this disease, is widespread and of several varieties. It is the female only that bites, and she needs blood—preferably red blood—for the development of her eggs. The eggs are deposited in a slow moving or stationary water and hatch out into little larvae or "wigglers." At least once in two minutes the larva must come to the surface to breathe, and that is where the sanitary department gets it, usually.

As one wanders about the zone he sees at the headwaters of every stream, ditch or other water course, at frequent intervals along its banks, and at the edge of every pool, a big tin can or a keg. From this receptacle there is a constant drip, drip, drip of larvacide, a black, oily-looking compound of crude carbolic acid, caustic soda and resin. This spreads out over the water, an iridescent film, and when little Anopheles larva comes up for air he meets a swift death. To replenish these cans of larvacide a small army of Jamaicans is kept traveling about the zone, and others go around with tanks of the compound strapped on their backs, spraying every pool they come to.

Another measure of extermination has been the draining and filling in of swampy ground and the straightening and clearing of water courses so that their flow will be too swift for Madama Anopheles. The work of draining and filling has been extensive and near the Pacific end of the canal has resulted in the reclamation of large areas of land for building sites.

The tiled part of the anti-mosquito campaign is the careful screening of buildings occupied by human beings. Ordinary mosquito netting would not do and only copper wire will stand the climate there. Consequently a fine meshed copper screening is used. If any Anopheles escape the larvacide and succeed in gaining entrance to a habitation, the mosquito-killer are summoned and seldom fail to get them. Nine days must elapse after a mosquito has bitten a malarious person before it becomes infectious, and this gives the mosquito brigade plenty of time to kill the insects while they are asleep on the walls. The isolation of infected persons in the hospitals helps a lot, for of course the mosquito cannot carry malaria until it has bitten a malarious person.

Rats, that carry the bubonic plague, and flies, that transmit various other diseases, have received adequate attention from the sanitary department, and dumb brutes are not neglected. As an instance of the latter fact, every horse and mule in the zone must be placed at night in one of a series of corrals established by the department and there it is fed and cared for, the owner paying a reasonable fixed charge for the service. These animals, if left out, often are attacked by a disease that is infectious and may be transmitted to human beings. Besides that, the native cannot be persuaded to keep his stable in sanitary condition.

Many other sanitary regulations are imposed on the people of the isthmus. All garbage must be deposited in receptacles to be collected by the department's wagons and burned in its crematories. Chickens may not be kept within a certain distance of any dwelling. Rain water may not be gathered and kept in open receptacles. That last rule is not easy to enforce, for the Panamanian prefers rain water for drinking purposes. But all these are for the general good, and the United States has the treaty right to attend to the sanitation of Panama and Colon as well as of the zone.

In addition to the two great hospitals at Ancon and Colon, the department of sanitation maintains a dispensary with physician and nurse at every town along the route of the canal and at Porto Bello, where the commission has a big stone quarry. The larger hospital, on Ancon hill, close to Panama, in the spring of the year had about 900 patients. Its wards and the residences of the physicians and nurses are scattered picturesquely though rather inconveniently on the east and north slopes of the beautiful hill, and the grounds are filled with magnificent trees and lovely flowering vines and bushes. A little further around the hill is the hospital for the insane, and it, too, is well filled, for the Jamaican and Barbadian negroes go crazy at the slightest provocation.

In Colon, stretching along the sea shore in the only pretty part of that flat city, is the other hospital, smaller but no less efficient and well manned than that at Ancon. Its grounds are swept continually by the refreshing winds from the Atlantic and many of its wards are built out over the water. Both hospitals are served by corps of physicians and surgeons, mostly rather young, but able, ambitious and studious.

One mighty good thing the French company did was to establish a sanitarium on Taboga island, and the Americans, recognizing its value, promptly reopened it for the benefit of white convalescents. These may remain on the pretty island for two weeks, paying $2 a day for room, board and medical attention.

Taboga lies twelve miles due south of Panama and is as attractive a tropical island as one will often see. Its curving white beaches in little bays are ideal bathing places; its lofty hills, clad with dense vegetation, afford occupation for the climber, and the small fishing village of Taboga is ancient and not uninteresting. Gorgeous birds and flowers and luscious fruits are everywhere. Nothing more perfectly beautiful can be imagined than an evening on the grassy slopes of the sanitarium grounds. A myriad stars glitter overhead, the Southern Cross and Canopus swinging above the southern horizon. In the forest night birds sing and a variety of tree locust sends forth a clear, musical note that can be heard a mile. In the little public square of the village the native women and children are laughing and singing as the men set forth on all-night fishing trips. And on to the north, this side of the glow of Panama, wink the light buoys of the canal's sea channel.

If in later years Taboga does not become a favorite winter resort for wealthy Americans, I shall miss my guess.

Sherrill-Russell Lbr. Co.
Gentlemen, Paducah, Ky.,

Paducah, Ky.,
August 1st, 1913.

Replying to your inquiry to know if I was pleased with the material you furnished for the new Bungalow residence which I have just about completed on West Broadway, the material required to build this residence included a good quality of long leaf Yellow Pine lumber for the general frame work, the very best Washington Red Cedar shingles for the roof, dormers and gables, strictly first class mill construction work for the window and door frames and interior finish for the openings, stairway, china closets, book cases and other cabinets. Most of the sash and doors are veneered Birch, the floors are polished Maple, Oak and Birch. To execute an order of this kind, I appreciate the fact a mill must have a splendid equipment and it affords me pleasure to advise that I am more than pleased with all of the material you furnished.

The copper wire screens which I instructed you to furnish for openings were also very satisfactory, and I was agreeably surprised that on the latter, your output compared most favorably with those gotten from E. T. Burrows Co., and the Willer Mfg. Co., and at a much less cost. Yours very truly,

L. S. Dubois.

CITIZENS OF NEBO

Request Edwin Hodge to Rebuild Factory. He Replies That Prosecution of Imperial Tobacco Co., an Obstacle.

The matter of rebuilding the tobacco factory at Nebo, which was burned last spring, is now agitating the citizens of that section of the county. Recently a petition was presented to the Imperial Tobacco Co., to whom the factory belonged, to have them come back and rebuild. The reply of the company does not hold out too much hope to the people of Nebo, the company stating that if a suit now pending in the courts is decided against them, they will have to leave the state. A committee of gentlemen representing all classes of industry at Nebo were in the city yesterday discussing the matter and are very anxious to interest capital to rebuild their factory. They state that there will be a good crop of tobacco grown in this section of the county, and that they hope for a factory built or rebuilt in time to handle this year's crop.

The letter of Mr. Edwin Hodge, general manager of the Imperial Tobacco Co., of Kentucky, in a response to a request of citizens of Nebo and farmers in that neighborhood explains itself:

Gentlemen: I have received your communication. I shall be pleased to lay that paper before the board of directors of the Imperial Tobacco Co., of Kentucky, with recommendation that it be seriously considered, and whatever the result may be, I assure you of my appreciation and that of the company of the friendly and encouraging spirit evinced by the signers, with whom the company has had pleasant and satisfactory business dealings for the past ten years, and the writer for a period of twenty-five years.

So far as I can at present see, a serious obstacle to a compliance with your request at this time is the pending prosecution against the Imperial Tobacco Co., of Kentucky, which is set for trial in November in the circuit court of Union county. Should that prosecution be sustained, it would not only result in a pecuniary fine, but a forfeiture of the company's right to do business in any county of the state of Kentucky. While I am perfectly certain that the charges embraced in this prosecution are absolutely groundless, yet, so long as the prosecution is undecided the company may well hesitate to make further investments or preparation to carry on any business that could be rendered worthless by the court's judgment.

I am hopeful and confidently expecting an early trial and satisfactory conclusion of the case. Should I be correct, the company will then be in a position to consider increasing its investments and business in our state. Otherwise, the elimination of the Imperial Tobacco Co., of Kentucky, will result in and would mean the removal of a competitor who has each year purchased about one-third of the tobacco raised in this district.

Again assuring you of my appreciation of your expressions of good will, I remain,

Yours very truly,
EDWIN HODGE,
General Manager of The Imperial Tobacco Co., of Kentucky.—Madisonville Hustler.

Mule Held to be Common Carrier.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 23.—Whether the mule, a common beast of burden in the mountains, is legally classified as a "common carrier of freight and passengers," was a question presented before the Franklin circuit court today in a demurrer filed to the suit of Augustus C. Byers against the Great Eastern Casualty Co. Byers had an accident policy insuring him against injury while riding on a common carrier. He was riding a mule belonging to D. Y. Combs, who transports passengers to and from Hazard, when he was thrown and injured. He sued for $153.37. The court held that as Combs is in the general business of transporting freight and passengers for hire, the instrument of conveyance in this instance a mule—is a "common carrier" within the terms of the policy.

News About Teeth.

You've always been taught, haven't you? that any acid is bad for your teeth—either natural or store, but especially natural. But Dr. William J. Gies, of Columbia University, after four years of study and experiment, declares we've been wrong for all these years and years in regard to the care of our teeth and advises us to use as cleansers vinegar, lemon or orange juice or "some food acids." These acids will preserve them. He says: "Food acids even in strong solution, have very little effect on the enamel, even during long periods of exposure." But in using food acids as dentifrices don't make the solution too weak or too strong. Get it right. And if you don't know what is right, find out somehow, the doctor neglects to tell us.—Detroit Free Press.

Authoress Resigns As Keeper Of Lighthouse.

Petoskey, Mich., Sept. 23.—Mrs. Daniel Williams, authoress and keeper of the Harbor Point lighthouse, in Little Traverse Bay, for the last twenty nine years, has resigned. It was announced today. She will leave the lighthouse November 1 and go to Charlevoix to live. Before taking charge of the Harbor Point lighthouse Mrs.

Williams tended the Beaver Island light for fifteen years. Her writings dealt with her own marine adventures.

TO MANY QUAKES

American Legation Secretary Quits His Post.

New Orleans, Sept. 23.—Twenty three earth quakes within twenty four hours at Guatemala City have disrupted the American diplomatic service to the extent that A. N. Collier, the newly appointed secretary of the legation, has given up his post. Mr. Collier is on his way to Washington, having arrived in New Orleans after remaining only a short time in Guatemala.

He said that being a secretary in a Central American legation was hardly worth the nerve-racking experiences he and Mrs. Collier had on the night of August 30 and during August 31, when the city felt the effects of twenty-three distinct earthquakes. Mr. Collier formerly was attached to the American embassy at London.

Scot Met Scot.

A Scotchman was strolling through the market place in Glasgow one day, and close at his heels followed his faithful Collie. Attracted by a fine display of shell and other fish, the Scot stopped to admire, perhaps, to purchase. The dog stood by, gently wagging its tail, while its master engaged the fishmonger in conversation.

Unfortunately for the beastie its tail dropped for a moment over a big basketful of fine, live lobsters. Instantly one of the largest lobsters snaps its claws on the tail, and the surprised collie dashed off through the market, yelping with pain, while the lobster hung on grimly, though dashed violently from side to side. The fishmonger for a moment was speechless with indignation; then, turning to his prospective customer, he bawled:

"Mon! Mon! whistle to yer dog, whistle to yer dog!"
"Hoot, mon!," returned the other complacently, "while to yer lobster!"—New York World.

SUCCESSFUL

BAPTIZING

Fifteen Converts Baptized Sunday Afternoon by Rev. Trotter.

Fifteen converts, all being the fruit of the recent revival held by Rev. Martin E. Miller, of Marion, at the Baptist church, were baptized in Tradewater river, near the levee. Sunday afternoon in the presence of fully two hundred people.

It was an ideal day for the baptizing, not being too hot and yet hot enough to make the water pleasant. The revival was very successful and it is hoped that more besides the 15 converts will yet be saved by the excellent sermons preached by Rev. Miller and Rev. Trotter. Rev. Trotter is conducting a revival at Sullivan assisted by Rev. Conway, of Providence.—Sturgis News-Democrat.

LONG-LOST BROTHERS FIND EACH OTHER

Had Not Seen Each Other Since They Left Berlin Forty Years Ago.

New York, Sept., 32.—While F. C. Waldman, of Sydney, Australia, who has been stopping at a local hotel on a world-girdling tour, was sitting in the main dining-room of the hotel last evening, a page passed, crying: "Call for Mr. Waldman."

Supposing the call was for him F. C. Waldman took the message, but found it was addressed to S. C. Waldman.

"That's not for me," said Mr. Waldman, returning the telegram.

Because of the similarity to the name to his he followed the page. A ruddy faced man in a remote corner of the dining-room proved to be Samuel C. Waldman a merchant of Berlin, enroute to Chicago.

The two Waldmans shook hands, commented on the similarity of their names, and then began to compare notes. Presently, to the surprise of the small page, the gray-haired men threw their arms about each other, it turning out that they were long-lost brothers.

Forty years ago they had left Berlin, two orphan boys, and embarked in a sailing vessel to seek their fortunes. The ship was wrecked off the coast of Australia and the crew and the passengers were forced to put off in boats. The brothers became separated, and never saw each other again until they met here last night. Each had supposed the other dead.

Blackford.

Our representative J. B. M. made a successful business trip to Blackford. He met with bankers, druggist, merchants, doctors, preachers and a goodly number of farmers last Saturday afternoon, doing a good business for the Crittenden Record Press in the way of collecting, and taking subscriptions.

Blackford is a progressive little town on the I. C. R. R. at the intersection of the Dixon branch. There are three churches: Baptist, Methodist, Cumberland Presbyterian, a fine graded school, Prof. Fred Stone Supt. Two dry goods stores, six groceries stores, three doctors: J. L. Reynolds, D. T. White and Price who look after the sick. All the churches in the town maintain a lively Sunday School, resident preachers: Revs. J. R. King and O. D. Spence, Wm. Perry is the Post Master. We spent several hours with W. F. Pickens and family. This was our stopping place, and it is a pleasant home to visit. Mr. Pickens is a railroad man and has a fine position and regular employment.

CRITTENDEN'S FIRST SCHOOL FAIR

No Longer a Dream, But a Reality, to be Held at Hurricane, Oct. 18th.

The teachers of Ed. Div., 2, assisted by the County Supt., and the many interested parents of the division have planned Crittenden's first Rural School Fair at Hurricane, Friday, Oct. 18th. The most prominent men and women of the county are giving their loyal support to this measure of better education. An extensive program has been arranged. There will be speeches, music, dinner, true hospitality; and last and most important, you will be given an opportunity to see and inspect the work done by the hands of your own boys and girls.

Athletic contests in the afternoon.

Everybody invited. Won't you come and join our slogan "Better schools for Crittenden?"

THE UNITED STATES

MAIL DOGS.

The United States of America has a two-thousand mile mail route upon which dogs furnish the motive power the greater part of the year. The trail runs between Cordova and Nome, Alaska. But for these swift and hardy animals the dwellers of the bleak northern peninsula during the long winter months would be without mail service. Even as it is, a ton or more of mail accumulates at Seattle before the first steamer's departure for Nome in the spring. — Our Dumb Animals.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Mrs. Albert Johnson of Blackford visited relatives here last week.

The home stead bone black fertilizer, always the best, for sale by C. R. Newcom.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cruce of Crayne View stock farm attended the State fair at Louisville last week and were guests at the Seelbach hotel while there.

Rev W. P. Gordon left Monday for Campbellsville, to attend the annual conference of the M. E. church South which is in session there this week.

Mrs. W. P. Gordon left Monday for Fayette county to visit the mother of Rev. Gordon for a couple of weeks. Her husband will join her there after conference.

Mrs. W. S. Jones of Repton, Crittenden county, was in town Saturday preparing to move into their new home, recently purchased from Mr. J. T. Truitt.—Sturgis News Democrat.

Mrs. C. W. Drennan and children of Charleston, Mo., who have been the guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Tucker near Shady Grove, have returned home.

J. F. Conger left this city last Sunday Evening for Woodville, Miss., where he will take care of a large farm and ranch. His many friends in this county wish him success in his new field of labor.

Zeke Hughes brought some of the finest Brantly peaches to town last week we have ever seen. They measure 10-12 inches in circumference and were as perfect as one ever sees anywhere on the globe.

Jack Lowery left Tuesday for Irvington, Alabama, where he goes to join his uncle Doc Lowery who located there a year or so ago. Jack is a bright fellow and will make friends where ever he goes.

We note from the Cincinnati Enquirer that our friend Rev. W. L. Kennedy desires to sell his fine farm of 200 acres in the suburbs of Lola, Ky., for $65.00 per acre. This is one of the best bodies of land in Livingston county and would be a bargain at the price asked $13,000 in view of the nearness of the date of building of the suburban railway.
